The Wyoming Association of Sheriffs and Chiefs of Police is alerting local communities to a fundraising scam using the association's name. Executive Director Byron Oedekoven was contacted by a business owner in southern Wyoming who was contacted by a person claiming to represent the association and was selling advertising space in the association magazine. The caller claimed this was a local project and the printing would be done in Wyoming. The Wyoming Association of Sheriffs and Chiefs of Police does not have a magazine and does not conduct any phone solicitation of citizens. If you are contacted by any persons making such claims it is a scam. If you have any further questions you may contact WASCOP Executive Director Byron Oedekoven or your local Chief or Sheriff.
